

1 person."

2 THE CHAIRMAN: The amendment is submitted by 3 Delegate Bothe. Is there a second.

4 DELEGATE BENNETT: I second.

5 THE CHAIRMAN: The Chair recognizes Delegate
6 Bothe.

7 Will you first point out the difference between 8 this amendment and Amendment 7?

9 DELEGATE BOTHE: The distinction between this 10 amendment and Amendment J, which was just turned down by 11 the Committee of the Whole, is simply this:

12 It eliminates the reference to "agencies of the 13 State," and I might say -- and I perhaps should have said 14 sooner, that this language is precisely that which is 15 suggested by the Model State Constitution of the National 16 Municipal League. It states the exclusionary rule, which 17 I attempted to explain very briefly a moment ago, and 18 suggests that it be imbedded in the Constitution. And 19 being as the language states "shall not be admissible in 20 any court or in any person" it would include not only 21 criminal but civil proceedings, but narrows the parameter of the notion somewhat.
